Pres. Elliott backs State Board in discussion on proposed change

Recent suggestions that separate governing bodies be set up for each of the state's four teacher-training institutions drew a statement from EMC President Eugene B. Elliott this week that he had "no quarrel" with the State Board of Education, which now governs the four colleges.

The suggested change — which would give Eastern, as well as Central and Northern State Colleges and Western Michigan University, its own governing board — was reported in a Detroit newspaper story last Sunday. The story quoted WMU president Paul V. Sangren and Dr. John Russell, who compiled a survey on higher education for the legislature last year, as saying separate boards were needed and implied that all four institutions favored such a change.

The two reportedly said that the rapid growth of the four colleges meant too many duties for the three-man, unpaid State Board of Education.

In disagreeing with the suggestions, however, Pres. Elliott said there were two possible changes in the present State Board setup that he would approve.

He told The Echo that either a larger Board or a narrowing of the Board's responsibilities would give it more time for college business.

"But I'm not asking for any new Board," he emphasized. Pres. Elliott said he was misquoted in the Detroit newspaper story, which reported that he was in favor of the switch to four separate boards.

In Sunday's newspaper story, WMU president Sangren said that Western, largest of the four colleges, had reached an enrollment of 7,800, making a separate board mandatory.

He was quoted as saying that the State Board of Education was "too busy to devote adequate time to each school." He reportedly added that each of the four schools would have a stronger voice before the Legislature if separate control boards were created.

His views echoed Dr. Russell's recommendations to the legislature. Director of Institutional Reseach for New York University, Russell recommended each college get its own board and that members of these boards be appointed by the governor with Senate approval.

Members of the State Board of Education were reported as being opposed to any change.

"The present way is wiser and less expensive," Stephen S. Nisbet, vice-president of the board, was quoted as saying.

"There are too many boards now," the story reported Walter F. Gries, board president, as saying. "At present the four can go to the legislature with a unified front — their strength would be watered down if they went separately."

Start plans for Homecoming

The first meeting of persons interested in planning next semester's Homecoming celebration will take place on Wednesday, April 22, according to Dean Adelyn Hollis, who will again serve as advisor for the event.

Anyone interested in working on any phase of the celebration has been invited to attend the meeting. The meeting will be held in the Alumni Lounge of McKenny Hall and is scheduled to begin at 4:00 p.m.

Selecting a theme for the Homecoming event, planning a parade and dance and other affairs will be included in the committee's early work.

Council asks new setup for commencement

Five proposals for the 1959 commencement exercises were made by the EMC Student Council at its meeting Tuesday night, following a request from Vice President William C. Lawrence for such recommendations.

The Council asked that names of graduates be read off, and that they cross the stage to receive their diplomas; that a 20-minute speech be given by someone prominent in education or industry; that an orchestra be used instead of an organ for music; that the president and vice-president of the senior class be designated "marshals" to carry the class colors: and that the ceremonies take place outdoors, if possible.

The Council also began plans for the annual banquet of the organization.

Name cast for 'Oklahoma!'; opening night is month away

The principal characters in the EMC Players' forthcoming production of the musical comedy, Oklahoma!, were annouced today. The show, which is being produced with the cooperation of the Music and Women's Physical Education Departments, will be presented in the Quirk Theatre on May 13 - 16.

The part of Laurey will be played by Joan Nicholson, senior music major from Detroit. George Webb, graduate student from Ypsilanti, will play the part of Curly, and Detroit senior Ina Rae Stanton will appear as Ado Annie. All three were members of the cast of the EMC Players' production of Finian's Rainbow in 1956.

Peter Saputo has been cast in the role of Will Parker; David Meneghel will be seen as Jud Fry; and the part of Ali Hakim, the peddler, will be played by Joseph DelGiudice. Pat Betz will play the part of Aunt Eller; Andrew Carnes and Cord Elam will be played by John C. Moore and Richard Thiede respectively.

The dancing ensemble for Oklahoma! will be made up of the following persons: Sue Burris, Judy Gothelf, Betty Brown, Sally Bollinger, Bonnie Walker, Peg Pickett, Jesse Martin, Marge Vaughn, Elaine Tullke, Edmund Bailer, Tom Butts, Ronald Bernstein, and John Witten.

Prof. Marilyn Yarmain of the Women's Physical Education Department is serving as choreographer, with Sue Burris as her assistant.

The members of the pit orchestra and vocal ensemble will be announced soon. Profs. William Fitch and Robert Waterstripe of the Music Department are in charge of instrumental and vocal music, respectively.

The settings for Oklahoma! have been designed by Prof. William Hawes of the Department of English and Speech; Prof. George Bird of the same department will serve as technical director, and Prof. William Work is the general director. Prof. Work's assistant is Laura Dunlap.

Campaigning underway; urge heavy turnout in Wednesday's balloting

With a record number of candidates certified for top campus offices in next Wednesday's all-campus elections, Student Council election officials were predicting a heavy turnout at the polls.

Four candidates are in the running for presidency of Student Council, and the race for president of Men's Union has five candidates. There are two candidates for president of Women's League.

The Student Council elections committee met Tuesday to certify nominating petitions and to continue plans for an intense get-out-the-vote campaign. Colorful posters urging EMC students to participate in next Wednesday's elections are being posted throughout the campus area, and a "Candidates' Capers" dance — where students will be able to meet candidates for top offices — has been planned for next Tuesday. (See story elsewhere in this issue).

ROBERT ASPERGER

LARRY BURKE

Students will choose in addition to officers of the three major organizations, five justices and a clerk for Student Court, Women's Recreation Association officers and officers of eight residence halls.

Wednesday's polling will take place in each residence hall for on-campus students and at McKenny Hall for off-campus residents. All polling places will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. according to Fred Chynchuck, elections committee chairman.

In the race for the campus' top office, Student Council president, are Robert Asperger, Larry Burke, Dominic Phelps and Ed Ward.

Bill Baldwin, Jim Davidson, Dave Fillmore, Chuck Kennon, and Tom Ryan are candidates for Men's Union president and Jane Antosik and Janice Conklin are candidates for Women's League president.

All candidates submitted statements on their candidacy to The Echo:

Asperger, an aspirant to the SC presidency, is presently a member of Student Council. A co-founder of the Council's Seminar Committee, he has served on several committees. He currently is the president of Munson Hall. He is a junior from Dearborn.

Burke, also a candidate for Student Council president, is a junior and lives in Fenton, Michigan. A member of the Vet's Club, he also is on the Dean's list of honor students.

Phelps, a junior from Monroe, also seeks the Council presidency. He has served three years on the orientation committee, as 1958 Homecoming chairman, as secretary of Men's Union, and as a member of Student Council and

PASSING THROUGH

On second thought

C. W. Cheng

It is time that most of our diplomats and our people become realistically aware of the fact that one cause for a decline in our world prestige is the rise to power of other nations. These nations can and do hold equal footing with the United States in all fields of world politics.

In view of such a situation it seems that the establishment of a policy of coexistence is the more plausible step for us to take. In adopting such a policy we will not be feebly appeasing or backing down, but will be pursuing a policy that coincides with the conditions of the so-called world scale.

One character trait that irritates me considerably about some collegians is the attitude of facing a situation by saying "it won't work out." Instead of making at least a vain attempt to cope with the problem, they adjust to this defeatist approach, which may stem from the influence of family or roommates.

The repugnance of such an attitude is that the person sincerely feels he is making a free and independent choice.

To confront the obstacles of life makes one's stay much more enriching, for smooth sailing is often weighted down by a heavy

Protests ROTC program

To the Editor:

Almost every man who enters Eastern Michigan College must take two years of ROTC (Reserve Officers Training Corps).

On Monday I shine my shoes, polish my brass, put on my uniform, and go through one hour of marching, saluting, and griping about something I don't want to do.

On Wednesdays and Fridays the uniform isn't necessary. I just have to go to class and listen to a soldier explain the mechanical make-up of a rifle. Not only does this irritate many students who dislike ROTC, but it hurts the military program itself. This is a result of the compulsory ROTC program on campus.

I said many students dislike ROTC. Let me elaborate on that point. I would venture to say that half of the students in ROTC don't care whether there are four counts to a right-shoulder-arms or whether the rear hammer-hooks keep the hammer from flying forward when the rifle is cocked.

An organization can't be successful when half of the men are apathetic. This defeats the purpose of ROTC.

If ROTC weren't compulsory, it would be an efficient and successful organization. The students who are interested in a military career (only about 25 or 30% go into advanced training) would take more pride in ROTC. The other students shouldn't be compelled to do something they don't want to do.

When my time comes to serve Uncle Sam, I'll be willing to put in my time — not until then.

Explain Pledge Cotillion

To the Editor:

With the approaching of another Pledge Cotillion we felt it necessary to clear up a question which has often arisen about attendance at this dance.

We wish to make it clear that the dance is sponsored by the Panhellenic Council and is attended by all sorority women on campus and sorority pledges. It is quite proper for a girl who was affiliated with a sorority on another college campus and has since transfered to attend as the guest of Panhellenic.

This information is especially important to those girls who are affiliated with a sorority that is not represented by a chapter on this campus.

Sincerely,
Panhellenic Council

Student Court. He is a counselor in Brown Hall.

Ward, another candidate for SC president, is a sophomore from Detroit. He has worked in student government for five years, being both vice-president and president of a student government organization. Ward has also served as vice-president of two other student groups. He lives in Brown Hall.

Council, Court

Five candidates are seeking the five vacancies on Student Court. All certified, they are Phillip Gorak, Jerry Levin, Dave McCulloch, Norv Schock and Tom Sheedy. Lone candidate for Student Court clerk is Nick Moisides.

Seeking 15 vacancies for off-campus Student Council representative are 13 candidates: Phillip Campbell, Dave Elsila, Bill Forster, Sharon Hessler, Charles Kennon, Milton McCartney, Dave Prakkin, Cheryl Proctor, Terry Reid, Lee Schoolmeesters, Howard Topp, Dick Wilbur and Ron Yahr.

Men's Union, Women's League

Tom Tear is seeking the post of secretary of Men's Union and Bryan Burwitz and Dan Crossman are in the race for treasurer.

Joyce Brooks and Joanne Regan are seeking the vice-presidency of Women's League; Anne Commire and Florence Hogan are secretary candidates and Carolyn Campbell and Sandra Schneller are candidates for treasurer.

Bill Baldwin, who has served for three years on Men's Union, is seeking the presidency of that organization. His platform includes beginning a Men's Union scholarship, establishment of an honorary men's fraternity, and a "rebirth of spirit and tradition" on campus. He feels these measures will "get the spirit back into (Men's Union) that was once there." Bill is a junior from Detroit.

Jim Davidson, a representative to Men's Union for two years, is also a presidential candidate of that organization. A junior from Pontiac, he feels the Men's Union "should have an active voice in the regulation of dorm policies." He would also like to see the Men's Union have a "strong voice in the operation of the student union," and to take an active part in improving parking facilities. He also feels the present "dormant" Men's Union can become "a forceful unit of student government." and "a strong helpful organization to every man on campus."

Dave Fillmore, candidate for Men's Union president, has served both as sophomore representative and treasurer of the organization.

Feeling he knows "the machinery of the organization well enough to carry on an active administration," he calls for "more attention" to traditional functions such as the Yule Log Drag and the Freshman-Sophomores Games. His platform also calls for a program to present movies and moderators of sporting events at campus appearances. Fillmore is a junior from Pleasant Ridge.

Chuck Kennon, a junior from Petersburg, asks for the establishment of a "judicial board" to "aid in reaching an agreement on various problems of male students" as part of his platform in the race for Men's Union president. He has served as president of the freshman and sophomore classes and was co-chairman of the J-Hop this year. He feels that "weak points of contact" between the Men's Union officers and its members has caused a "noticeable absence of enthusiasm" in activities and calls for "more interest through a better form of representation." This will make it a "stronger and more active organization," he feels.

Tom Ryan, a junior from Warren, thinks that the Men's Union "should rise to a more important position then as it presently stands" As president he would "call frequent meetings,

Candidates' views

(Ed. note — The following statements were submitted to The Echo by the four candidates for Student Council president.):

Asperger

by Robert Asperger

Two points which I would like to briefly discuss are: (1) What is student government?, and (2) What do I believe regarding our student government?

Student government is the social structure through which students can voice their beliefs and is the body of students who work with the college administration in areas of mutual concern.

I believe that students have an inherent right to form such a social organization for their own benefit and protection. Also, that since the administration agrees on this point and about ten years ago allowed our campus to form a Student Government, as students we should assume more of the responsibilities in this area. We have Student-Faculty boards of control, but in many cases the students on such committees have failed to attend meetings and, therefore, the students' voice has not been heard.

I believe that any organization which receives its operating funds from our student fees should only use the money for projects that will benefit the students who are "footing the bill."

Lastly, I feel that as a University we must begin to recognize the State and National political issues that are directly affecting our campus. We need to elect dynamic students who will do an admirable job in representing Eastern Michigan University.

Burke

by Larry Burke

On April 22nd you, the Student Body of Eastern Michigan College, will be asked to cast your votes for candidates to fill on-coming vacancies in the Student Government. I am a candidate for one of these vacancies —the office of Student Council President. If elected, I will attempt to accomplish two simple basic and important facets of student government:

(1) Bring about a closer relationship between the Student Body, Student Council, and Administration.

(2) Do everything possible to find out what YOU—the students of Eastern Michigan College—want as a student body and make these desires actualities.

Phelps

by Dominic Phelps

One of my major proposals, as a candidate for Student Council president, is to try to form a type of centralized placement office on campus, where business establishments of Ypsilanti and campus job openings be submitted to offer students who need help in finding a job a chance to get one. Any student would be able to apply, and as job openings occur they would be notified by this office.

Also I would like to see a still closer relationship between the three stronger bodies on campus, those being: Men's Union, Women's League, and Student Council. These three in closer unity, I feel, can create more interest and enthusiasm among the student body. In my opinion, these three bodies should and must offer the students something before there can be a successful outcome. By working together it may be easier to give the students what they may ask for, when and if it is in their power.

One more thing which I would like to stress is the lack of knowledge by the majority of the student body in the functioning of the Student Council. Since it is the main governing body on this campus, as well as other campuses, I feel that more students should know what the actual functions and rules set up by the Student Council are. I would like to propose that a handbook concerning the functioning of this body be published; to the student body's advantage, to let all students know what actually takes place at Student Council meetings, and procedures it follows to aid the entire student body on our campus.

Ward

by Ed Ward

The office of Student Council President is a challenge to me. There are many things to be corrected and many things to be initiated. Some of these I have outlined in my following goals.

There are five major goals, in addition to many minor ones, that I am determined to accomplish if the student body of this college elects me President of their Student Council. My most important goal is a complete evaluation and revision of the Student Council Constitution. This will enable the organization to function effectively and efficiently.

My second goal is to improve the Council's committee system so that it will be an effective operating part of our student government.

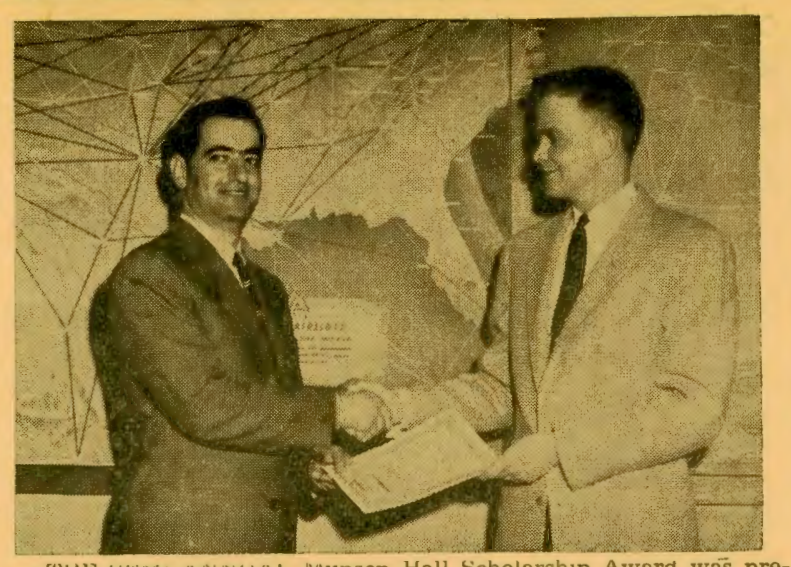
My third goal is to encourage off-campus representation and better attendance by enforcing the attendance rules.

My fourth goal is to make the Student Court an effective interpreter of the Council's Constitution and to enforce the authority of the Court in student disciplinary action.

My fifth and last goal is to take a census, based on enrollment figures, to acquire the correct percentage of representatives according to on-campus or off-campus status.

Women's Recreation Association

Candidates for president of Women's Recreation Association are M. Sue Waltz and Karen Wilkins. Vice-presidential candidates are Donna Shaffer and Sharon Sipel, and Mary Jo Griggs and Kay Taddie are running for secretary. Judy Gothelf and Barbara Kosloski are candidates for recorder.



THE SEMI-ANNUAL Munson Hall Scholarship Award was presented March 24 to Ibrahim Karam, a sophomore from Lebanon. Above, Mr. Donald Kleinsmith (right) presents the award to Ibrahim at a scholarship dinner. Eight finalists, including Barry Aspenleiter, Tony Papalas, Hank Rutkowski, Larry Malcheff, Owen Hayes, Dan Free and Norv Schock, were in the running for the scholarship . William Kneller of the Geology department was the speaker at the banquet and Fred Chynchuck served as master of ceremonies.

set a strong policy of representation orienting men students to the fact that they have the position and capacity of expressing their opinions on many matters concerning student government now taken for granted." He feels that the former "influential reputation" of Men's Union can be reached again "under proper management and leadership." Tom has been a member of the Inter-fraternity Council and has an above average grade point average.

Jane Antosik, candidate for Women's League president, is presently co-chairman of the Hospitality committee. She attended a regional convention of Association of Women Students last spring and worked on the steering committee for the state AWS meeting here. She belongs to Stoic Society, Pi Omega Pi and Kappa Delta Pi. Her platform includes a promise to "work diligently, to the best of my ability" to "develop a feeling of responsibility, leadership, co-operation and democracy among the women of this campus." She is a junior from Romulus.

Jan Conklin, who came to EMC from Flint Junior College in 1958, has been active in Womens League on both campuses. She feels Womens League "should be a stronger organization and this can happen through hard work and a greater awareness of what the League is doing." She proposes a "Women's League weekend in the fall where anyone who is genuinely interested could come with their friends and become acquainted with other members" because "there are many women on this campus who would like to be active members but hesitate because of not knowing the girls attending meetings or not feeling they are welcome."

Seek student support for community concert program

High-calibre artists, including the noted Roger Wagner Chorale, are being planned as feature attractions in the 1959 season of the Community Concert Association.

A membership drive, which includes offering a special season ticket rate for Eastern Michigan students for the Association's concerts, is now underway.

Season memberships, at a cost of $3.00 to students, are now available from the Music Department, the Dean of Women's Office, Clara Shaw, 207 Buell Hall, and John Witten, Munson Hall. The memberships, which will admit holders to the three other planned concerts plus the Roger Wagner Chorale presentation, should be purchased this week. They are $7.00 to non-students.

In past years, the Community Concert Association has brought top-flight artists such as pianists Alec Templeton and Herman Godes; singers Risa Stevens, Brian Sullivan, and the DePaur Infantry Chorus; and ensembles such as the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra to Pease Auditorium, where all concerts take place.

The three other artists for next season will be selected at the conclusion of the campaign on Saturday, April 16.

Tickets for individual concerts will not be available. Only holders of season memberships may attend.

Begin card contest

EMC students will have an opportunity to submit design sketches for Christmas cards to be sold by the Muscular Distrophy Association of America, it was announced this week.

The Washtenaw County chapter, which is responsible for the design, printing, and distribution of the 140,000 cards sold annually, will accept design sketches until May 17. All sketches submitted will be on display in the Ann Arbor Public Library in June.

A panel of four judges will select the four final cards, and the Muscular Distrophy Board will make the selection of the one winning design.

Entry sheets may be obtained from Prof. Kingsley Calkins, Head of the Art Department, and further information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Wollam, 1512 Longshore Drive, Ann Arbor.

anchor of tedium.

One of the most enchanting experiences one can witness is the reliving of a historical situation on the spot where the history was made. In a short visit to Andersonville Prison Park in Georgia, the color and the agony of McKinley Kantor's Pulitzer prize novel Andersonville comes into full focus.

The peaceful atmosphere of the countryside and the beauty of natives wonders in the area has far-reaching effects when one thinks back to the era in which war destroyed such tranquility.

In the end, beauty and the peace have remained through the turmoil and the land was preserved.

The peace of Andersonville Prison Park, which has gone through the horrors of belligerent destruction, is something we all desire on the world-wide scene.

Order student expelled following $600 fire

College officials ordered a Munson Hall sophomore expelled Wednesday after he admitted setting a fire that caused an estimated $600 to $700 damage in the residence hall lobby early Tuesday morning.

The student, Paul Ruggirello, identified himself Wednesday as being the person who set fire to a bulletin board in the Munson Hall lounge. The fire spread to adjacent areas. An investigation was conducted by city and state police and the Ypsilanti fire department.

In addition to his expulsion, Ruggirello or his parents, of Detroit, were ordered to make full restitution for the damage. The college has not signed a prosecution complaint, but state police are taking the issue to the state prosecutor to determine if the student is to be brought to trial.

WSU Training open

Applications are now being accepted at Wayne State University for summer and fall traineeships in Vocational Rehabilitation Counseling.

Trainees receive $550.00 for the six-week summer session and $900.00 per semester while working full time on a master's degree in vocational rehabilitation.

In addition to coursework, students qualifying for this grant enroll in a practicum of supervised field experience.

Vocational rehabilitation counselors attempt, through counseling, guidance, vocational training and placement, to prepare and restore physically and mentally handicapped individuals into remunerative employment.

The Wayne State University curriculum leads to the degree of Master of Arts in Vocational Rehabilitation, requiring forty-five credit hours of coursework. All requirement, including the practicum, can be completed in three semesters of full-time work.

Interested students should talk with Dr. Louis J. Cantoni, 5105 Second Avenue, TEmple 3-1400,

Meet candidates at Tuesday dance

Candidates for all top offices in the April 22 elections will be introduced at an all-campus social affair next Tuesday evening in McKenny Hall.

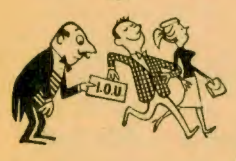
Do You Think for Yourself? (THIS TEST WILL GIVE YOU A CLUE! *)

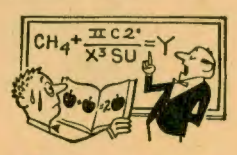
1. If your parents exhibited "baby pictures" of you to a friend, would you be (A) embarrassed? (B) merely interested in your friend's reaction? (C) just plain annoyed? A☐ B☐ C☐

2. You are making a speech—and suddenly find you have a large hole in your clothes. Would you (A) excuse yourself and leave? (B) pretend you didn't know the hole was there and finish the speech? (C) cover up the hole with a handkerchief? A☐ B☐ C☐

3. Would you rather have the characteristics of (A) U.S. Grant? (B) Thomas Edison? (C) J. P. Morgan? A☐ B☐ C☐

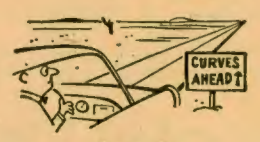


4. You have taken your date to dinner and find you haven't money to tip the waiter as well as take your date home. Would you (A) ignore the waiter? (B) take him aside and tell him you'll tip him next day? (C) tip him and walk your date home? A☐ B☐ C☐



5. Mathematics is your poorest subject, yet you are fascinated by the idea of being an atomic physicist. Would you (A) try to overcome your difficulties with math? (B) pick an easier occupation? (C) ask yourself if it's physics you like or its glamour? A☐ B☐ C☐

6. Your roommate is a nice person, but suddenly takes to asserting an ability to foretell the future. Would you (A) notify the authorities? (B) ignore the whole thing? (C) give him tests to prove to him he's wrong? A☐ B☐ C☐



7. Do you believe the maxim "It's a long lane that has no turning" is (A) a complete non sequitur? (B) a well-known fact? (C) an allusion to a common phenomenon? A☐ B☐ C☐

8. Would you rather have as a birthday present (A) something expensive? (B) something long-lasting? (C) something beautiful? A☐ B☐ C☐

9. In choosing a filter cigarette, would you pick one that (A) claims it filters best? (B) merely says it tastes good? (C) gives you a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste? A☐ B☐ C☐

If you're the kind of person who thinks for yourself . . . you use judgment in your choice of cigarettes, as in everything else. Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

If you have checked (B) in three out of the first four questions, and (C) in four out of the last five . . . you think for yourself!*

The Spectator

Michigan is bankrupt!

There need be no real discussion over the above statement since even the most optimistic legislators in the state will admit this. This is the basis for the EMC administration following the strictest interpretation of a decree set down by the State Administrative Board. The interpetation that Eastern is following is one which states, "there will be no trips made by any department to out-of-state meetings or conventions not previously under written contract."

As was previously stated, Eastern is following the strictest interpretation of the decree. What does this have to do with sports?

It seems as if a couple of the institutions under this ruling body have continued to participate in out-of-state athletic meetings despite the ruling and the somewhat dire condition of the state's economy.

Here again the point is raised, what is the more reasonable set of values? The athletic branch of the college (track in particular) has been hit very hard by the decree. However, it is the opinion of this observer that the most biased individual can see the Eastern position as honorable.

The whole purpose of the decree was to make available some of the 5 million dollars spent annually on out-of-state travel for welfare or some other necessary state aid agency. Because a couple of other schools (namely Central and Western) under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education are acting less honorably this doesn't mean that EMC should alter its high principles.

TOP-NOTCH NETTERS Bob Martian (upper right) and Joe Seidl (lower left) are big reasons why Coach Russ Bush thinks things are very promising this season for his squad.

Netters edged 6-3; improvement noted

by Bob Quick

On a cold and windy Saturday afternoon, the EMC "racket squad" was edged 6-3 by Kalamazoo College.

Bennie Brose, number three singles, won his match as did Bob Opiteck, who played number six. The other Huron victory was accomplished by the doubles team of Alan Moore and Dick Davey.

Moore was outstanding in a losing effort in the number five singles, carrying the last set to twenty games before bowing 11-9.

In commenting on the meet, Coach Russ Bush says that the overall strength of the Eastern squad has improved, but still needs quite a bit of practice before reaching its peak.

The Hornets had just returned from a thorough nine match tour of the south. Quite obviously, the advantage over the Hurons was a major factor in this early season loss. Nevertheless, even with this advantage, the Hornets had their hands full with the EMC warriors. Captain Bob Martain was quoted as saying, "With a few breaks and poise gained with the season long experience the Hurons would have been victors."

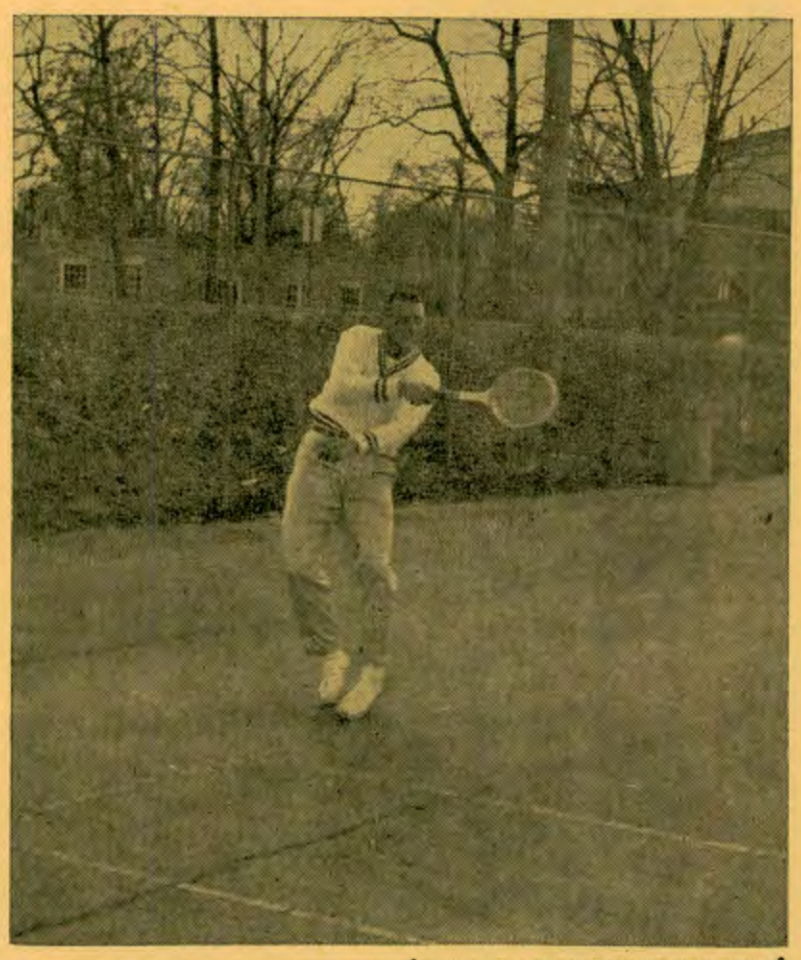
Due to the decided advantage that Kalamazoo had going into the meet, Coach Bush is again in high hopes of taking a southern tour with his netters next year. He feels that he has saved on equipment by "stock-piling" of balls and uniforms so that next year, the money could be spent toward a sojourn in the southland.

Judging from the EMC netters initial showing, it would be a good suggestion for Huron fandom to see the squad in action against Wayne State on April 21. The next Huron meet will be at Bowling Green on the 18th.

Radio Club calls meeting

An organizational meeting for persons interested in forming a Radio Club has been called for next Tuesday evening.

Students with or without experience in radio work are invited to the meeting, which will take place at 7:00 p.m. in the radio studios of the Quirk Dramatic Arts Building.



Wolves win first; Hurons "drop" opener

by Ken Balcoff

The University of Michigan broke into the win column after seven losses with a 4-1 victory over a shaky EMC nine. Al Koch threw a three-hitter against the Hurons for the Wolverines.

Eastern's only run came in the fifth inning when Don Mathews blasted a home run over the left centerfield fence with one out. Eastern's starting pitcher, Neil Otto, followed Mathews with a walk. Otto went down to second when Charlie Shonta grounded out from pitcher to first. John Murray singled to right field (for one of his two hits) and Otto was thrown out at the plate to end what might have been a big inning for the Hurons.

Michigan got only 11 hits off the EMC squad, but Otto received almost no defensive backing. The Wolverines stole bases with uninhibited joy and were aided by errors at crucial moments thus accounting for the victory. The Hurons lack of outside practice was in evidence as Charlie Shonta ran into Mathews in left field to account for one of Michigan's four runs. The Wolverines scored on errors in the second inning as well.

Duffers romp over Albion 17-3

by Jerry Levin

The Brittons of Albion College fell before the Huron Golfers by the lopsided score of 17-3.

High winds and rough greens sent scores soaring. Conspicuous in the astronomical scoring department was Ed Meridith's 84. Ed is 10 strokes better than Tuesday's score indicates according to team coach Jim Skala. Considering Ed's fine performances in the past one would have to agree with him.

The carded scores for the rest of the Hurons went as follows: Siebert 77, Zill 78, Otto 80, and Jensen with an 82. Norv Schock, who played along with the Hurons but whose score wasn't counted in the final totals, made the tour in a 78.

The Huron squad will leave the friendly confines of Washtenaw Golf Club and journey to Detroit tomorrow to be entertained by the University of Detroit.

Professor Verda returns

Prof. Martha Verda of the Women's Physical Education department returned to EMC after a semester of study at the University of Michigan.

She will resume her post as advisor to W.R.A., which was filled by Mrs. Margaret Bell during her absence.

Ex-Huron advances in automotive industry

Karl E. Scott, a 1926 graduate of EMC, has recently been appointed as Executive Vice-President of Ford of Canada. Karl lettered in track during his senior year at Eastern.

Olds explains his stand on EMC athletic budgeting

To the Sports Editor:

My attention has been called to your recent article dated March 10th in the Echo regarding budgets for athletics.

The Department of Athletics is well aware that the college is operating on an austerity program and appreciates the fact that the Policy Council has a difficult program to administer. Cooperation is paramount and the Athletics Department during the past year speaks for itself as to living within its budget.

Since there seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the allocation of cross country and track and field funds, a few facts may help to clarify the situation.

The college business office submits the following figures for the past nine years:

1950-51	7,350.00
1951-52	7,350.00
1952-53	7,350.00
1953-54	7,500.00
1954-55	7,250.00
1955-56	6,000.00
1956-57	6,600.00
1957-58	6,300.00
1958-59	6,500.00

You will note that in 1955-56 the budget was cut from $7,250 to $6,000. This was done in spite of the fact that in 1954-55 a saving of $1,000 had been made because Waterman Gymnasium in Ann Arbor was no longer available and all our indoor meets had been held away from home at our opponents expense.

With the completion of long-awaited Bowen Field House in '56 it became not only desirable but necessary to meet our obligations to our opponents and also to give our students an opportunity to see their track team in action. This required funds, but the budget was not then nor since restored.

You may be interested to know that in staging a simple dual track meet it is necessary to have available twenty-two different items of equipment which all cost money. Seven of these items, not including the athletes' personal equipment, are expendable. A dual track meet also requires from twenty-five to thirty officials for an efficient run-off. Fortunately for the budget only two or three are paid.

Furthermore, to field a representative cross country team the minimum cost is $1000. Only two items of all the equipment used by cross country runners can be used by track and field athletes.

It is true that the number of months over which a sport is extended may not be so important as to budgeting if there is no competition. However, when there is an indoor and outdoor schedule for between thirty and forty competitors, participating in thirteen events indoors and fifteen events outdoors, an entirely different financial situation is presented.

It is a growing opinion that much of the recent criticism by press, radio, students, faculty and alumni could be eliminated if the Policy Council would allocate a fair lump sum for the thirteen various activities on the athletics program and permit the Board of Control to function on the policy of athletics budgeting, the administration of the program to be left to the athletics staff, trained and experienced by longtime participation.

Head of Department

WRA Announcements

The organization meeting for the W.R.A. golf club was held Monday night, April 13, at 4:00. Any others interested in joining the club should contact Pat Berkel, King Hall, or Miss Steig. Beginners will play on Wednesday nights from 4 to 5:30 while all advanced and intermediate golfers will play on Mondays at the same time.

The club will sponsor a clinic behind the tennis courts on Monday, April 20 at 4. Miss Rotvig, an Ann Arbor professional, will be principal speaker.

Thirty girls are participating in W.R.A. tennis in preparation for the intramural tournament beginning Wednesday, April 15, at 6:15. Inter-collegiate matches have been scheduled with Albion on May 2 and a tentative date with MSU.

The W.R.A. softball season will start soon after the organizations meeting on April 16 at 4 p.m. If you desire to enter a team from your club or dormitory, contact June King as soon as possible.

Eastern competes in national gymnastics

Eastern Michigan College was represented in the Michigan AAU Gymnastic meet held in Ann Arbor Saturday, April 11. Ed Herndon placed 10th in the free exercise event, 10th in the parallel bars, and 6th in the high bar. Joe Graf placed 8th on the parellel bars, and 8th on high bar.

Approximately 15 to 20 men were entered in each of the events which means the above men did very well for their experience. These men are all part of the group which has been working informally under the direction of Mr. Willoughby of the Physical Education Department.

Intramural announcements

Swimming

The Fraternity swimming meet will be held next week. The preliminaries will begin at 4:15 on Tues. at the college pool and the finals will be held at 7:30 Thursday, April 22 at Ypsilanti High School pool. Phi Sigma Epsilon are the defending champions in this meet which includes 4 individual swimming races, 2 relay races, and diving.

Bowling

Both leagues in Fraternity bowling ended in ties for first place at the end of the regular schedule. In the play-offs Kappa Phi Alpha defeated Zeta Chi Sigma for 1st place in league I and Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated Pi Kappa Phi for 1st place in league II. In the play-off between the first place teams of each league Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated Kappa Phi Alpha. Playoffs are continuing this week for the remaining positions in the final league standings.

Badminton

All men interested in signing up for an all-campus badminton singles tournament should turn in their names to the Intramural office by April 17. If enough men are interested, matches will be held starting April 20 and the tourney will terminate by the end of the week.

Softball

Fraternity softball will begin April 27 with games being played on Mondays and Wednesdays. Independent Softball will begin on Tues. April 28, with games played on Tues. and Thurs. All Independent managers should have their entries in to the Intramural office by no later than April 23. Any man interested in officiating softball can sign up at the Intramural office.
